2. Principles and Values

Tywardreath School take seriously any concern or complaint, as we believe that tackling issues at the earliest possible stage will improve our school, enhance learning, prevent issues escalating and reduce the number of formal complaints.

We will ensure that a concern or complaint is managed sympathetically, efficiently and at the appropriate level, and confidentially. Doing so is good practice, it is fair to those concerned and it helps to promote parents' and pupils' confidence in our ability to safeguard and promote welfare to ensure that all pupils are able to learn. We will try to resolve every concern or complaint in a positive way with the aim of putting right a matter which may have gone wrong and, where necessary, reviewing our systems and procedures in light of the circumstances.

3. Objectives of this Procedure

This procedure covers most complaints that Tywardreath School is likely to receive from parents and pupils, except those for which there is an alternative process such as:

- Complaints regarding special needs assessments – for which parents have a right of appeal via an SEN Tribunal
- Concerns about Admissions or Exclusions – for which parents have a specific right of appeal to the Academy Board
- Allegations of child abuse – which are dealt with through the Child Protection Policy
- Complaints raised by staff members – which are dealt with through the Grievance Procedures.

Where there are established statutory and other procedures for dealing with a complaint, these will be followed. These guidelines therefore do not cover those matters for which such a procedure already exists such as:

- Admissions to schools
- Exclusions from school
- Special Educational Needs Provision
- School re-organisation
- Matters concerned with the school curriculum
- Serious complaints against school staff
- Child Protection issues
- Public examinations.

Extended Services

It is also recommended that the Academy Principal ensures that any third-party providers offering community services or facilities through the school premises or using school facilities (even if it is hiring it out for a function or meeting) have their own complaints procedures in place.

Underlying Principles

Complaints should be treated seriously and courteously and given the time they require to be heard. It is important to the school that complainants have confidence in these procedures and know that their case will be investigated impartially.

Complainants should be advised at the earliest possible stage about:

- The scope, if any, for pursuing their complaint and the extent of the procedure for dealing with it
- The way in which the complaint is likely to be handled

Taking informal concerns seriously at the earliest stage will reduce the numbers that develop into formal complaints.

The key to guaranteeing a successful outcome is to ensure that the correct procedure is followed from the outset. If Principals are unsure of the procedure to be followed, the flow chart towards the end of this guide should be consulted. In addition, ALAT/Bright Tribe should be contacted for further information and advice. It may well be the case that action taken under the complaints procedure may lead to action being initiated under other, for example statutory, procedures. In these instances, the investigations under the complaints procedure should be suspended until action under other (including appeals) procedures has been concluded. The complainant should be advised that alternative action is being taken, but will have to remain confidential until that procedure has been completed. The complainant should also be advised of any likely delay in the final resolution of the complaint that will result.

Definition of a Complaint

For schools, the definition of a complaint within the terms of the procedures described here is an expression of dissatisfaction verbally or in writing by parents or carers of children who attend the school, or from neighbours of the school or school community affected by the services the school provides.

After initial investigation of a complaint, a decision may well be made to use the discipline, capability or other appropriate procedure.

Anonymous complaints will not normally be considered under the procedure set out here.

The procedure set out in the following pages outlines the stages both formal and informal through which a complaint made against the school will proceed. At all stages, the aim is resolution to the satisfaction of both parties and a mutual understanding of the problems believed to exist in order that improvements can be made where necessary.

Where agreement and resolution cannot be reached, the aim of the procedure is to ensure that all parties are treated fairly and equitably.

Conciliation or mediation between school and complainant can be considered at any time within the informal or formal stages as set out in this guide. ALAT/Bright Tribe can be contacted at any appropriate stage for advice and guidance.

4. General Principles

4.1. Publicity

Parents and carers should always know how they can raise concerns or lodge a formal complaint. Complaints procedures should be easily accessible and well publicised.

A summary of how the school deals with complaints should be included in the information that is given to parents when their children join the school.

Schools should also prepare leaflets for parents explaining how problems are dealt with and how the complaints procedures work.

Consideration should be given as to whether the procedures need to be made available in languages other than English and whether audio-cassette, Braille or large-print versions are necessary.

It is good practice to advise parents and carers at regular intervals of the procedures.

4.2. Accessibility

Procedures should be as speedy as possible, consistent and fair to all concerned. Each stage of the procedure should have known time limits. Where it is not possible to meet these, the complainant should be kept informed of progress.

4.3. Support for complainant

It is important that parents and carers know that at any stage of the procedure they can be accompanied by a friend, relative or representative and to know where they can go for information, advice and advocacy, if required.

4.4. Support for a person complained against

Staff who may be questioned as part of the investigation of a complaint must feel that they are being treated fairly, that they will have the opportunity to put their case and that a friend or representative may accompany them at any stage. There is a crucial balance to be maintained between supporting the individual so that his/her rights are maintained and reputation protected, and investigating a complaint thoroughly and impartially.

The complaints procedure is distinct from formal disciplinary proceedings for staff and this will need to be made clear to all concerned. However, there may be occasions where a complaint leads to a disciplinary procedure which puts the complaints process on hold. If so, the complainant should be informed of this, without going into details, and updated regularly on likely further delay. After the disciplinary process is completed it will be necessary to decide what further response to the complainant is required.

4.5. Confidentiality

It is very important to treat all concerns and complaints with discretion. It is vital that parents and carers feel confident that their complaint will not penalise their child. However, a complainant will need to be aware that some information will have to be shared with those involved in order that the complaint can be investigated.

It is usual to disregard anonymous complaints, but the danger is that they may relate to something serious and the complainant may subsequently surface and say that he/she alerted the school. It should be at the Principals discretion to decide whether the gravity of an anonymous complaint warrants an investigation.

4.6. Redress

If the outcome of the complaints procedure shows the school is at fault, it is often sufficient to provide redress in the form of an acknowledgement that the complaint is valid. Alternatively, it may be appropriate to offer one or more of: an apology, an explanation, a promise that the event complained of will not recur, an undertaking to review school policies or practices in the light of the complaint, or, in appropriate circumstances, financial compensation. Fear of litigation should not prevent a school from admitting to parents when mistakes have been made, but it is recommended that advice be sought from ALAT/Bright Tribe if it is possible that the parent might take legal action.

4.7. Staff Awareness and Training

All staff should be aware of the procedures, as potentially many will be involved with handling complaints, especially at the informal level. To be confident in doing so depends on them having clear information about the procedures, reassurances that senior staff are committed to the procedures and some basic training in dealing with people who are upset or angry. All staff should also have clear information about which staff have which responsibilities so that parents do not get continually passed from one to another.

4.8. Record Keeping

Complaints should be recorded and monitored regularly by staff. It is recommended that recording should begin at the point when an initial concern or complaint cannot be resolved immediately but needs some investigation and/or consultation with others in school and a subsequent report back to the parent. Recording at the earliest stage need only be a very basic record of the complaint, giving the date, name of parent and general nature of the complaint. A pro-forma or a 'comments and complaints' book could be used.

5. Vexatious Complaints

This procedure should limit the number of complaints that become protracted. However, there will be occasions when, despite all stages of the procedures having been followed, the complainant remains dissatisfied. If the complainant tries to re-open the same issue, the Executive Principal of Tywardreath School is able under this procedure to inform them in writing that the procedure has been exhausted and that the matter is now closed.

6. A Staged Approach

This procedure describes a four-stage procedure:

- Stage 1 - informal raising of a concern or complaint notified orally or in writing to a member of staff
- Stage 2 - formal complaint in writing to the Principal
- Stage 3 - renewed complaint in writing to the Drive Team
- Stage 4 - complaint in writing to the Regional Executive Principal and on appeal to the Director of Primary Education

Stage 1: Concern or complaint heard by Staff Member (Informal)

Where a concern or complaint arises, the first reference should be to the class teacher. In most cases the concern can be satisfactorily resolved at this stage. If, however, the issues raised require further enquiries, the class teacher will make such enquiries and report back to the complainant either verbally or in writing within 5 working days. The Principal should be informed of every complaint even if it is resolved at this stage.

If following this informal process, the complainant is not satisfied with the response, the matter should be referred through the formal process.

Stage 2: Complaint in writing to the Principal (Formal)

- This stage in our procedures deals with written complaints, where the complainant is not satisfied with the outcome of Stage 1 above. Normally, written complaints should be addressed to the Principal using the Complaints Form. If, however, the complaint concerns the Principal personally, it should be sent to the Regional Executive Principal for the Academy region.
- Acknowledgement of written complaints will be made, in writing, within 5 working days. This will include details of what will happen next, the timescales involved and the person who will be in charge of progress of the complaint.
- As part of the investigation, the complainant may be invited to meet with the Principal (or person in charge of the complaint) to discuss the detail of the complaint. If desired, the complainant may be accompanied by a friend/advocate. Written records will be kept of meetings and telephone conversations during the investigation.
- The person who has been nominated to carry out the investigation will inform the complainant and, where applicable, the person who is the subject of the complaint in writing, of the outcome within 10 working days. This will include a full explanation of the decision reached and the actions, where appropriate, that the academy will take / has taken to resolve the complaint. The complainant will be offered the opportunity to discuss the response to the investigation. If the complaint is unlikely to be fully investigated within the 10-working day timeframe, a further written acknowledgement will be sent to the complainant detailing the progress to date and providing a revised target date for a full response.
- All documentation about the investigation and its outcome will be retained on the premises and treated as confidential, held by the PA to the Principal or the HR Administrator for the Regional Executive Principal, and will be available on request for inspection by the Executive Principal and the Principal.

Stage 3: Complaint in writing to the Drive Team

If, following due process, the complainant feels that the complaint has not been investigated appropriately or the complainant wishes to take the complaint further then they should write to the Chair of the Drive Team (or the Regional Executive Principal where the complaint was in relation to the Principal). This should be done within 10 days of receipt of the outcome letter from Stage 2 of the procedure.

The Drive Team Chair will acknowledge receipt of the complainant's letter within 5 working days. If appropriate, the Drive Team Chair will then convene a Complaints Panel. The panel shall consist of 3 Drive Team members who have not been involved previously.

The panel will meet within 30 working days of receiving the complaint. The Drive Team Chair will notify the complainant in writing, at least 5 working days in advance of the date, time and venue for the panel meeting. The complainant will be invited to attend the Panel and can be accompanied by a friend/advocate. The Principal or Drive Team Chair will be asked to prepare a written response for the panel in response to the complaint. All documentation will be made available to the panel and the complainant in advance of the Panel meeting.

Following the panel meeting, the complainant and, where applicable, the person who is the subject of the complaint will receive written notification of the outcome within 5 working days of the meeting.

The details of the meeting, minutes and all records and correspondence relating to the complaint will be retained on the premises and kept confidential, held by the PA to the Principal or HR Administrator to the Regional Executive Principal, and will be available on request for inspection by the academy Regional Executive Principal and the Principal.

Stage 4 – Complaint in writing to the Regional Executive Principal

- This stage in our procedures deals with written complaints, where the complainant is not satisfied with the outcome of Stage 3 above. Normally, written complaints should be addressed to the Regional Executive Principal.
- Acknowledgement of written complaints will be made, in writing, within 5 working days. This will include details of what will happen next, the timescales involved and the person who will be in charge of progress of the complaint.
- As part of the investigation, the complainant may be invited to meet with the Regional Executive Principal (or person in charge of the complaint) to discuss the detail of the complaint. If desired, the complainant may be accompanied by a friend/advocate. Written records will be kept of meetings and telephone conversations during the investigation.
- The person who has been nominated to carry out the investigation will inform the complainant and, where applicable, the person who is the subject of the complaint in writing, of the outcome within 10 working days. This will include a full explanation of the decision reached and the actions, where appropriate, that the academy will take / has taken to resolve the complaint. The complainant will be offered the opportunity to discuss the response to the investigation. If the complaint is unlikely to be fully investigated within the 10 working day timeframe, a further written acknowledgement will be sent to the complainant detailing the progress to date and providing a revised target date for a full response.
- All documentation with regard to the investigation and its outcome will be retained on the premises and treated as confidential, held by the regional HR Administrator, and will be available on request for inspection by the Director of Primary Education.
